

Although it may be hard to believe, your lawn mower may be contributing to air pollution in South Carolina. Air pollution can make you sick and damage the environment.

The lawn mower exchange is your opportunity to trade-in a working gasoline powered mower, empty of all fluids, for a discount on a new cordless electric mower. Come out and do your part to help Mow Down Pollution!

- WHERE: Columbia Earth Day Celebration
South Carolina State Museum
- WHEN: April 21, 2007 from 10:00 to 3:00
- WHO: Residents of Richland and Lexington counties
- WHAT: Bring your working gas-powered lawn mower, drained of all fluids to trade-in for a discount on a new cordless electric mower from Neuton!

Neuton Mower MSRP: $450

Discounted Price without Trade-in: $299

Discounted Price with Trade-In: $199

Quantities Limited - First Come, First Served; Taxes May Apply*

For more information in Lexington County, please contact Synithia Willams at swilliams@lex-co.com, or 785-8634.

For more information in Richland County, please contact Joe Cronin at croninj@rcgov.us, or 576-2066.

Gas powered lawn and garden equipment is the leading source of non-road air pollution in the United States!